

Self-Care Strategies for Resilience

While not a substitute for professional care, there are plenty of simple activities anyone can do to reduce stress, encourage wellness, and restore a sense of well-being during difficult times. You know yourself best. Do what works for you and don't be afraid to try something new. Try one of these self-care activities the next time you need to take a step back, breathe, and focus on you.

Here are a few self-care activities to help you take a step back, breathe, and focus on your well-being.

Mind

- Have a daily routine • Set goals each day
- Make a gratitude list • Take breaks
- Practice mindfulness • Read a book
- Develop a project, activity or new skill (e.g., painting, knitting, woodworking)
- Acknowledge something you did
- Schedule worry time • Journal
- Express your feelings

Body

- Walk, exercise, go outside if you can
- Set a sleep routine, giving yourself time to rest and restore • Practice meditation and yoga
- Take deep, slow breaths • Take a bath or shower
- Eat something healthy • Drink a cup of tea
- Limit your caffeine and alcohol intake
- Put on your favorite song and dance

Soul

- Ask for help • Donate to a cause
- Tell someone you love them
- Reach out to someone who may need you
- Follow "feel good" social media
- Set boundaries for yourself • Write a poem or short story • Share something special
- Connect with whatever inspires you

Surroundings

- Create a "retreat" space
- Make your space comfortable and safe
 - Display something you like to look at
- Watch your favorite movie or show – or something you've been meaning to see
 - Join a virtual gathering
